

CAPTAIN GEORGE PARISIS

George is a MERCHANT MARINE MASTER MARINER under STCW requirements and regulations, as well as a Master's Degree holder in Marine Engineering Management from the University of Greenwich (UK). He is an experienced instructor in delivering both academic and maritime training programmes, approved by well-established UK universities such as the University of Greenwich, Solent University of Southampton and Warsash Maritime Academy. He has a vast experience in the Yachting industry, concentrating on superb services for High Network and Ultra High Network individuals. George has an extensive and solid knowledge background in yachting gained through various programmes and seminars, ranging from the Lloyds Educational Systems in Crew Management, Yacht Logistics, Behavioral and Service Quality, and Security Training. As captain, he is extremely responsible and in charge for the total operation of the yacht.